Subject:	Sample report

Thank you for the call today, you raised very important points that we should consider.

Following our conversation, please find attached our sample report (all the names were changed).I also added our sample report presentation. We find that in many of the cases the analyst or portfolio manager who orders the research needs to present the findings to his colleagues. For that reason we create for any large project a presentation with all the main findings to make things easier for them.

The website I mentioned to you regarding employees ranking their company is http://www.glassdoor.com/.

All the best,

Shlomo
